By having a teletype system operating in the Placentia head-quarters of the new exchange, it vill be possible to watch market changes and execute orders promptly, he said.

There has been a fairly general ppinion in the past that larger exchanges, handling a large volume of fruit, could operate at a lower ost per unit because of their large output and spreading of overhead costs over a large volume of fruit. Another advantage reported to have been considered by those leading in the new movement is that the new exchange will have its own member on the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers exchange.

The two other houses which have withdrawn are the Bradford Brothers house of which Ray Easton is manager, and the Placentia Orange Growers association, managed by Jack Prizer. The leaders in the movement to set up the new exchange are expected to meet Monday, when they may discuss selection of a manager for the new organization

SUPERVISORS TO GET CAPISTRANO STREET REQUEST NEXT WEEK

PETITION TO BE OFFERED BOARD

Residents Ask Changes in Names of Avenues of Mission Pueblo

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO .-Culminating several weeks of effort by members of the Spanish-Californian club, a petition will be presented to the county super-visors at their next meeting asking that changes be made in names of practically every street in the ommunity.

Residents felt that present names of streets did not coincide with historic traditions of the pueblo. The petition was circulated by Alfonso Yorba, secretary of the club, and is signed by de-scendants of many of the old families of the district.

The petition reads as follows: "We, the following residents of the town of San Juan Capistrano County of Orange, State of California, respectively ask that your honorable body be pleased to give consideration to the following changes of names of the streets of town, because the existing street names totally ignore the hisplaces, names and well-ished landmarks of this place, which we wish to restore through this action."

The following changes are pro-posed: Highway 101 to be changed to Juan Abila street; Broadway to Plaza street; Oriental street to El Camino Real; Cross to Yorba street; Garden street and McKinley avenue to Calle del Obispo; Oc-cidental to Rios street; San Fernando to Mission street; the un-improved strip connecting highway 101 and Oriental street, For-ster street; Commercial to Indian street; Water to Ramos street, and others of lesser importance. Street names were also listed in Spanish on the petition.

Signatures on the petition in-cluded Alfonso Yorba, Jose Antonio Yorba, Jose Abila, Isaac Lopera, Soledad P. Landell, Mattias H. Belardes, Reyes V. de Yorba, Lilly Abila de Lopera, Lilly J. WINNER IN FORMER NEWPORT LIGHTS TOURNEY

Extensive preparations are being made for the 27th annual Tournament of Lights in Newport Harbor on August 24. Entries from several cities in the Southland have already been received. This year's event will be strictly amateur and is expected to be one of the most beautiful in the long history of the popular programs at the harbor. Large searchlights will aid in illuminating the scores of floats from banks of the bay. Mayors from Santa Ana, Long Beach and Pasadena will be judges to determine winner of the sweepstakes prize, a small motorboat.

BOXING CONTRO /ERSY

SETTLED AT LAST Favoring reader and sports-writer alike, the recent much-ado about the amateur boxing situation has simmered down to below boiling point at last. Solution to the mess that had Long Beach's Bud Holzhauer playing a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde role in negotiations for a bout at the Orange County Athletic club comes right from the husky lungs of Carl Holzhauer, man-ager and father of Bud.

Holzhauer, and it sounds logical, said his son has become such an attraction in bumping over about 25 rivals during his undefeated career that clubs in this sector are constantly billing him without permissioning him to be a sure-fire attraction. Thus the confusion. He was erroneously booked in Long Beach Thursday.

Francis Conrad Returns To Lineup; Lackayemen Get Early Lead

Sixteen strike-outs resulted from the masterful pitching of Jimmy Coates, who tore the heart out of Westminster's attack while the Santa Ana Stars pounded out an 8-1 victory over George Lackaye's Aviators in National nightball here last night.

Centerfielder Al Reboin, ex-Olive sensation, made his debut Olive sensation, made his debut with Tom Denney's champions, and in a style befitting the league's player with the highest average of .458, singled twice in four trips, and stole home in the fifth for one of Santa Ana's

Francis Conrad, after a long absence due to an injured shoulder, also played a full game. He began in leftfield, but was trans-ferred later to shortstop, where he will be during the play-offs with Huntington Beach.

Given Poor Support Seven errors, three by Floyd Montgomery at first base, dampened the spirit of Pitcher "Fuzzy"

Errington of the visiting nine, and were major factors in Santa Ana's run-making.

Despite his weak support afield, Errington would have lost any-way, for Santa Ana hit safely Infield singles by Urbine and Young, together with a trio of Westminster miscues, increased Santa Ana's margin to 4-1 in the fourth. "Doc" Smith took two bases on Jim McNabb's overthrow to First-baseman Montgomery in the fifth, and Reboin singled. Smith crossed the plate on Coates' grounder, and Reboin stole home while Montgomery held the ball too long at first.

Young's double, Preble's walk, Koral's sacrifice, Daley's long fly and Conrad's single produced a pair of Star runs in the eighth.

Westminster introduced a new outfielder-Bob Mailer of Los Angeles, who has played hard ball with the Catalina Cubs. Charley Hill, Santa Ana City leaguer and brother of "Mem-Hill of Olive's Grenadiers, hit for Les Haserot of the Flyers in the ninth.

Long Beach's strengthened Admirals come to the Municipal bowl next Tuesday. Santa Ana treks to Huntington Beach for an interesting test Friday, and completes the second-half schedule at home with Anaheim a week from

All you have to do is report Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Bel Canto club's rehearsal in the telephone company recreation room on East Fifth street. Operatic entertainment for the community, in the form of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore," is the present aim of Bel Canto, community chorus, and its director, Earl M. Waycott.

Sopranos and altos are reporting faithfully and in good numbers to the "Pinafore" rehearsals, but tenors and basses are still sparce. This may be due in a measure to the fact that Bei Canto was organized by Mr. Waycott five years ago as a club for feminine employes of the telephone company, and only recently has been opened to men and men singers of Orange county.

"Come one, come all-and bring a friend" is the rallying cry of Bel Canto. So if you sing tenor or boom bass, and if you'd like the fun of being in light opera, your presence is desired at the next Tuesday rehearsal of "Pinafore."

She sits smiling at us. Blue glass beads echo the color of her blue-print frock. Remembering the gallant spirit which makes it hard to realize her health keeps her so much at home, one thinks of Leetha Journay Probst's lines describing Miss May

"She is not made for a hospital Malgam and jade, cinnamon and myrhh,

On the pale cold walls she hangs her jungle masks
And dreams of old pagodas, of Chinese palaces

Shimmering in the rain, While dishes clatter from the brick-walled windows be

In the "Artists' Who's Who," blished by the American Art Magazine, and in the book, "Principal Women of the United States," both selective and non-paying directories, Miss May is listed. They tell of her training in the Chicago Art Institute and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, of her membership in the Sculptors' guild of Southern Cali-fornia, the California Art club, the Laguna Beach Artists association, the League of Western Writers, the Southern California Verse Writers association

Way of entertainment way of entertainment. Besides Lionel Barrymore, the singing, clowning emcee will number Vince Barnett, whose ribbing of the great and near-great led to a screen career; Carmel Myers, former film favorite turned songstress, and the Watson Sisters, comediennes.

The broadcast will be on the air for a full hour over KFI from the Hollywood NBC studios starting at 5:30.

Barrymore will be heard in an adaptation of "The Copperfreed," the play in which he was starred as Milt Shanks on Broadway in 1918. Localites had a look at it in Los Angeles neveral years ago.

Written by Augustus Thomas from a story by Frederick mandis, "The Copperhead" is a moving drama with a Civil mar background.

VOL. 1, NO. 93

Saturday, August 17, 1935

To the Spirits of Will Rogers and Wiley Post:

Carry on. I hope I'll be seein' you in Fiddler's Green. COL. V. ORANGE.

To Southland Democrats:

Just who is the prodigal son you are going to kill the fatted calf for when you hold forth at Ham Cotton's ranch? Could it be Ham himself?

COL. V. ORANGE.

To John D. Rockefeller, Jr.:

Well, the beneficiaries of your $25,000,000 - whoever they are - got the money, even if you did wait until after Roosevelt's wealth tax message. The fact that you would be taxed on the gift under the inheritance tax measure, does not lessen the value of the money, although it depreciates somewhat the spirit of the giving.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Senator La Follette:

Your effort to expand the tax program so it would be spread over a wider area of smaller taxpayers was courageous, even though it did not stand a chance against a democratic congress. Politically—that is, for your own political welfare—it probably was not a popular move, but it is refreshing to see a fight for principle now and

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Col. Charles A. Lindbergh:

Again you are proving the nation's popular hero in offering to extend aid to the grief-stricken families of Will Rogers and Wiley Post. The nation will watch with interest the outcome of your willingness to fly to Alaska to return the precious bodies of its two unfortunate loved ones.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Edward L. Doheny:

Ed, it seems as if you kinda threw your old pardner at a time when he needed a lift. Al Fall carried your pack and went to prison for it. He's a sick old man now, has paid the debt society exacted of him and, it seems to me, is entitled to a roof over his head during the brief time he has left in these diggin's.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Santa Ana Buyers:

By the time you read this the Santa Ana Merchants' Dollar Day celebration will be well under way, but there still will be time for you to avail yourself of some of the special values. Merchants are encouraged to make special concessions when there is quick response. As a community undertaking today's event should merit the support of all. Such affairs bring neighbors to town from other cities and we like to see them.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Supervisors John C. Mitchell and LeRoy Lyon:

Good luck to you men, on your mission to Washington, D. C., where you are going in the interests of an adequate water supply for Orange county and a scientificallyplanned flood control. Orange county's future stability may depend on the result of your mission. This is a case where sectional selfishness must be forgotten for the common good.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Judge Leon R. Yankwich:

Your talk on freedom of expression before the Rotary club Tuesday, held the attention of every man there and when you returned to Los Angeles they were still discussing it. I am sure the club is grateful and I know I am because it brought home a great truth — that those who would destroy free speech, either oral or written, are those who would trade a free country for any one of the several kind of European dictatorships.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To The Journal City Editor:

I was gratified to observe the other day that you used good judgment in handling a story about a move to revise the existing scale of wages for agricultural workers. Instead of trying to stir up trouble by using first page headlines threatening a farm labor strike, when none existed, you used a small news item on an inside page saying an arbitration committee was to meet that night. Agitators who thrive on farm labor trouble thrive first on front page publicity. Without it they get no place. You showed good sense, Mr. City Editor.

COL. V. ORANGE.

To Judge Homer G. Ames:

We hope the report that your candidacy for the new federal judgeship has met with fatal setbacks, is not true. There has seldom been the proper recognition accorded country districts in the Los Angeles area and Orange county certainly has had little attention. You probably can expect nothing from Senator McAdoo because he is too closely surrounded with political creditors in Los Angeles. But there are other influential friends who should be able to see that your candidacy is at least considered on its merit.

COL. V. ORANGE.

> To young Bob LaFollette they were a crazy-quilt nightmare.

He had consistently hammered home the idea of broadening the income tax base down to the lower figures on the theory that if more paid income taxes they would take more interest in how the money was spent.

At no time, however, did he advocate elimination or decrease wealth.

But there developed in commit-

Information has just reached my desk that correspondence privileges are accorded certain stenographers, which will in the future cramp my style. On occasions when provocation appeared it has been my habit to reply in kind—well, not so kind, either but there has been a liberality of appropriate applications which will not be used hereafter. What I think of certain individuals will remain statu quo, but that won't change my opinion any.

Skribbles have lost a railroad. Bob Davis was the general manager, engineer, road foreman, section "Here's where we add a little located near the Irvine park enthere? Bob is sort of an indeness isn't where he is, he goes to the business. Thys daye occurs one of Lyfe's railroad without passengers.

Someone has popularized the alley between Main and Sycamore. When I first started to negotiate that miniature canyon, purely as no opposition. Now it's a congestion, especially between the hours of 3 and 5. Well, there isn't other means of economic preambulation must be devised. The board of strategy now has the problem. What they do with it is of little concern to me. I'll find a way.
